PEST CONTROL SINCE 1962

ABOUT US

Deluxe Pest Control was established in 1962 by Mark Juneau Sr., a retired Navy Chief, a veteran of WWII and the Korean wars. His philosophy was that there are no problems or excuses, there are only solutions, which has guided Deluxe since its inception. Since 1971, the second-generation owner, Paul C. Juneau, has taken this commitment to new heights, with a service that is unparalleled in the industry.

The concept of problem solving in the Pest Control industry was to always “spray away a problem.” As a college student studying Entomology, Paul was concerned about the direction of the Pest Control industry, and began to rethink this concept, resolving instead to institute the Integrated Pest Management system, or IPM.

IPM is an effective environmentally sensitive approach to Pest Control that limits pesticide use. Deluxe has been practicing this safer approach before the phrase was made a part of the language of the now modern day Pest Control Industry. Innovation has always been our goal in the pursuit of our mission to limit the use of pesticides in our lives, while still maintaining an environment free of disease-carrying and nuisance pests.
